

Michael Morwood . . .

has over 30 years experience in retreat, education, parish and youth ministries in Australia. Since 1990 he has worked in adult faith formation in almost every diocese of Australia. He is interested in helping Christians examine what they believe and why they believe it, what they imagine and why they imagine the way they do. He is interested in helping Christians articulate faith in Jesus in ways that resonate with contemporary understanding of our place in the universe.

Michael was a member of Missionaries of the Sacred Heart for 38 years, 29 years in priestly ministry. He has an MA in Pastoral Ministry from Boston College. Following the banning of his book, Tomorrow's Catholic and his silencing by Archbishop George Pell in Melbourne in 1998, Michael resigned from religious life and priestly ministry. He married Maria Kelly in March 2000 and they live in Melbourne, Australia.

Michael is highly regarded as an inspiring and challenging speaker on the need to re-shape Christian imagination, thought and liturgical language.

Praying a New Story
Orbis

Page 7 - "It makes a big difference how we pray if we view God as a person in heaven or, as the Baltimore Catechism put it, if we view God 'everywhere.' For many of us prayer has been an effort to contact an 'elsewhere God.' What happens when we shift our attention to an 'everywhere God' --- a sustaining Presence in all, through all, never absent, never distant, not in one place more than in any other place, a Presence 'in whom we live and move and have our being'?"

Michael's latest book:

From Sand to Solid Ground

Crossroad Publishing, February 2007

Page 9 - "This book is written for readers interested in exploring this challenge facing not only the Catholic Church but all Christian denominations today.... A renewed focus on Jesus' teaching concerning the connection between living in love and living in God --- and an understanding of God beyond the narrow limits imposed by traditional doctrinal thought --- reveal how genuine renewal can occur in the Church."
